

Test/Development Licenses

Disclaimer: I know that there are other threads on this but I wanted to update it in this new Idea space.

I would really like to have Test/Development licenses for SolarWinds products, at least for the products that we have purchased. These licenses could be restricted to just a few nodes (like 10ish).

The reasons for this would be having the ability to do the following things in a non-production environment...

- Testing upgrades
- Testing different configurations
- Learning the SolarWinds products for SCP (SolarWinds Certified Professionals)
  - In the case of SCP's I think they should get access to test licenses for all of the SW products to keep current
- Creating a small training environment
- Creating a demo environment

I am sure there are other reasons that I have not already thought of, please share if you have them and vote on this idea if you like it!
